A Message from the General Manager

Federal Funding Investment

As you may have read, there are some in Washington who support the elimination of federal funding for public service television stations like Vegas PBS.

When we've faced this challenge before, we've always found strong bipartisan support in Congress for continued federal support. Still, this seems an appropriate time to share some thoughts on how we invest federal dollars and what an elimination of this funding source might mean for the services your membership support helps sponsor.

This year, Vegas PBS will receive $1,308,231 in federal matching funds. This amount is equal to about 59 cents a year for every person in our viewing area, and makes up about 11 percent of our annual budget. For these 59 cents, we are required to broadcast a free, universally accessible program service that (1) provides at least 35 hours of curriculum-correlated educational children's programs weekly, (2) produces local programs, public service promotions, and/or outreach events that address community concerns, (3) provides a redundant path for transmission of Presidential and local emergency messages via TV channels and cell phone networks, and (4) secures most of our funding from non-federal revenues.

To meet the children's programming requirements, we license and broadcast 79 hours a week of educational programs on Channel 10.1, plus an additional 168 hours a week on PBS KIDS. We hold more than 1,100 educational workshops annually to help parents better use PBS KIDS programs, websites and mobile apps to increase their children's academic and social achievement. We partner with public, private, charter and home schools to provide online classroom resources and tools to assist special needs children with their education.

All this for just 59 cents per person a year.

To meet the local programming requirements, Vegas PBS annually produces over 250 hours of local television on education, public health, arts, outdoor recreation and local history, and an additional 250 hours of educational videos, public service announcements and public access meetings for Internet distribution with over 200 community partners. We extend the impact of our over-the-air programming by hosting more than 15 job fairs a year and annually enroll almost 127,000 adults in career programs that result in a high school diploma, continuing education credit or a career certification.

For just 59 cents per person a year.

To meet the public safety requirement, the PBS interconnection system serves as part of FEMA's Integrated Public Alert and Warning System (IPAWS), and our transmitters carry text messages for Wireless Emergency Alerts and encrypted data for local first responders.

For just 59 cents per person a year.

It bears mention that federal funding for the Corporation for Public Broadcasting is distributed primarily to local PBS stations using a matching formula. The more non-federal funding we raise, the greater our share of the CPB matching funding. At Vegas PBS, individuals, corporations, foundations and competitive grants provide nine dollars for every one dollar we earn in federal matching funds.

This is a spectacular public-private partnership – led by donors like you. Whatever your position, please share your thoughts on federal funding with me and our elected officials. For more information please visit ProtectMyPublicMedia.org

Lewis and Clark: The Journey of the Corps of Discovery

Sunday, April 30 at 3 p.m.

Sent by President Thomas Jefferson in 1804 to find the fabled Northwest Passage, Meriwether Lewis and William Clark led the most important expedition in American history – a voyage of danger and discovery from St. Louis to the headwaters of the Missouri River, over the Continental Divide to the Pacific Ocean. This is the remarkable story of the entire Corps of Discovery – not just of the two Captains, but the young army men, French-Canadian boatmen, Clark's African-American slave, and the Shoshone woman named Sacagawea, who brought along her infant son.

Dolphins Spy in the Pod

May 3 and 10

The camera eyes of 13 ingenious Spy Creatures, including Spy Dolphin, Spy Nautilus and Spy Turtle, capture the dolphin's "superpod" behavior never filmed before. Infiltrate the social world of dolphins from strange gatherings to gang rivalries and learn their mysteries of communication and strategies. Go undercover to meet the Orca, the largest dolphins, and race the Dall's porpoises, the fastest dolphins in the world.

Animal Misfits May 17

Alongside the fastest, strongest, smartest animals are nature's misfits, odd, bizarre and unlikely creatures that at first glance seem ill-equipped for survival. Left at the starting line in the race for life, these are the apparent losers in the story of evolution, yet somehow they manage to cling to life and in some cases even thrive. Discover some surprising details about how evolution really works, demonstrating that all animals are remarkably well-adapted to their chosen way of life.

Gathering of Swarms May 24

Get a look at some of the planet's great gatherings and creatures that come together in inconceivable numbers — sometimes in millions, billions, even trillions. Included are bats and bees, locusts and ants, monarch butterflies in Mexico, 17-year cicada hatches, grunion in the Sea of Cortez and carp in the Mississippi River and much more. Some gather to breed or to migrate, some for protection, some simply to keep warm in the cold. But in the process, a kind of super-organism is created in which individual intelligence is superseded by a collective consciousness that shares information and moves with a single purpose for the benefit of all.

Touching the Wild May 31

Whether having wild turkey chicks imprint on him or embedding with a herd of Rocky Mountain bighorn sheep for months at a time, writer, artist and naturalist Joe Hutto (My Life as a Turkey) seeks to observe behavior without preconceptions and from the animal's perspective. In the case of his latest study, it meant dedicating seven years of his life to being accepted by a wild mule deer family and living among them. Hutto presents and narrates his story of bonding with the mule deer and their impact on him.

Plants Behaving Badly

Wednesdays, May 3 and 10 at 10 p.m.

Take an in-depth look at the intriguing behavior of orchids and carnivorous plants and witness a world of deceit and treachery worthy of any fictional thriller. The extraordinary behavior of carnivorous plants have been a feature of many a sci-fi film over the years. The reality turns out to be far stranger than the fiction. David Attenborough narrates. Repeats Sundays at 11 a.m.

Nature's Miracle Orphans

Thursday, May 4 at 8 p.m.

Growing up in the wild is always rough — and young animals rely on their parents to protect and nurture them through the dangerous early phase of life. But how do young animals survive when they've lost their mothers? The conclusion of this heartwarming and emotional series follows the work of animal rescue centers around the world and introduces the extraordinary people who have devoted their lives to helping all sorts of wild orphans get back on their feet. It follows the different stages of caring for these little heroes, from rescuing and tending to young babies in the early stages of life, to teaching them how to look after themselves, and finally looking to the future when, hopefully, they will one day be released back into the wild.

The Wonder of Animals

Tuesdays, May 9 and 23 at 7:30 p.m.

There are more than ten million species on the planet, but why have some thrived where others have failed? This special celebrates the most successful animal groups on Earth — from apes to elephants, ants to bears. Discover why, despite appearing clumsy and comical, penguins actually have an anatomy that is perfect for their environment and how the dominance of big cats is down to more than just their brawn. Learn how each animal's unique characteristics have contributed to its success.

Martin Clunes: Islands of Australia throne following Queen Elizabeth's death. As Charles wrestles with his own identity, the drama explores the implications for him, his family and his subjects. The story is part political thriller, part family drama and a timely examination of contemporary Britain.

Dark Angel on Masterpiece

Sunday, May 21 at 9 p.m.

Joanne Froggatt (Downton Abbey) stars as the notorious Victorian poisoner Mary Ann Cotton. The special dramatizes the events that drew a troubled woman ever deeper into a career of casual murder, while her loved ones and friends, who were also her victims, never suspected a thing. Her chosen means were her good looks, sexual allure and the dirty secret of nineteenth-century suspicious deaths: arsenic, which is tasteless and easily disguised in a cup of tea. Please see page 29 for details.

Call the Midwife (Season 6)

Sundays at 8 p.m. through May 21

This phenomenal British drama continues this month in the all-new sixth season. Based on the best-selling memoirs of Jennifer Worth, the series follows the lives of a group of midwives working in the poverty-stricken East End of London. It is now 1962 and it is evident how times are changing, from increased liberation for women to the shadow of infamous gangsters to the introduction of new government policies.

Home Fires (Season 2) on Masterpiece

Sundays, April 30 and May 7 at 9 p.m.

The final season of this moving drama concludes this month. Samantha Bond (Downton Abbey) and Francesca Annis (Reckless) are women in an English village who face the onset of World War II. Set in June 1940, Great Britain faces the threat of imminent invasion, standing alone against German forces. As Britain finds itself increasingly beleaguered, the tightknit community will be tested as never before. In the concluding episode, even as the allies cheer for victory in the Battle of Britain, there's one more twist of fate in store for the citizens of Great Paxford.

Wolf Hall on Masterpiece

Sundays, April 30 and May 7 at 10 p.m.

Concluding this month, the drama presents an intimate and provocative portrait of Thomas Cromwell, the brilliant and enigmatic consigliere to King Henry VIII, as he maneuvers the corridors of power at the Tudor court. A brutal blacksmith's son, Cromwell rises from the ashes of personal disaster and deftly picks his way through a court where 'man is wolf to man.'

In an all-new second season, host Danielle Chang explores Asian cuisine's impact on American food culture, while discovering how deeply Asian culture is rooted in our everyday lives. Season two opens with Danielle learning about the American manifestation of "otaku," the Japanese phenomenon that mixes cutting-edge pop culture and food obsession. She stops by the Koneko Cat Cafe in New York, America's first Japanese cat cafe and sake bar, which offers Japanese snacks, pastries and sake, and the opportunity to adopt at-risk cats, who live in three "cat-centric" spaces adjacent to the cafe.

Over on the West Coast, Danielle visits a suburban mom in northern California who painstakingly assembles and blogs about her elaborate kawaii or "cute" bento boxes, filled with an array of colorful and healthy foods that she has created for her children over the past 10 years. In the idyllic San Francisco Bay Area, Danielle harvests vegetables from a farm plot where a Korean-American adoptee grows heirloom cabbages and herbs for Namu Gaji, one of San Francisco's hottest restaurants. And, in the strip malls of Orange County's Little Saigon, a young veteran of the fast-casual giant Chipotle leads the company into a new, nationwide venture based on spicy Southeast Asian grub.

Traveling back to the East Coast, Danielle visits one of New York's hottest new restaurants and talks with a husband-and-wife team from Australia who present fresh interpretations of their grandmothers' dishes in a bright room with a Bollywood vibe. Later, she spends time with America's most celebrated Indian chef, Floyd Cardoz, who has returned from a sabbatical in his home country to open a sister restaurant to the Indian comfort-food canteen that's been a blockbuster success in Mumbai.

SPOTLIGHT

Secrets of the Dead

Thursdays at 10 p.m.

Explore iconic historical moments while debunking long-held myths and shining new light on past events.

Cavemen Cold Case

Thursday, May 4

A tomb of 49,000 year-old Neanderthal bones discovered in northern Spain leads to a compelling investigation. How did this group of Neanderthals die? And could the fate of this group help explain Neanderthal extinction? Scientists examine the bones that tell a shocking story of how this group may have met their death.

“And could the fate of this group help explain Neanderthal extinction?”

Graveyard of the Giant Beasts

Thursday, May 11

A mining operation in northern Colombia opened a window into a previously unknown period of the earth's history and a world teeming with giant creatures emerged. The biggest of all was Titanoboa a 43-foot snake, the largest that ever lived. But these new discoveries suggest that Titanoboa's rule was challenged by a giant crocodilian. So which one was the apex predator 58 million years ago?

Teotihuacan Lost Kings

Thursday, May 18

The Aztecs reign over Mesoamerica was the last great culture before the Spanish conquest. As they venture south, a group of warriors finds Giant pyramids, the remains of an enormous ancient city completely abandoned. Who built this magnificent city? A team of scientists explore the royal tombs that may reveal clues about the long-lost Teotihuacán culture and its mysterious people.

Bones of the Buddha

Thursday, May 25

More than 100 years ago, workers in northern India unearthed an astonishing discovery: a huge stone coffer containing five reliquary jars, more than 1,000 separate jewels and some ash and bone. One of the jars bore a Sanskrit inscription which, when translated, stated the jar contained the remains of the Buddha himself. Doubt and rumors of forgery have overshadowed this remarkable find. Renowned historian Charles Allen sets out to solve this extraordinary mystery, once and for all.

Secrets of the Dead: Graveyard of the Giant Beasts

Outdoor Nevada Magic

We left Las Vegas on a beautiful fall Saturday morning. We hit the highway going north and the city was quickly left behind, giving space to the endless desert landscape. The road laid in a perfectly straight line and for a second I appreciated the predictability of the linear path to Reno, a big contrast with basically any day in a full steam production. There we were, back on the road for another circle around the Silver State, for another take on Outdoor Nevada.

The series has been a local favorite since the mid-nineties and after a successful relaunch in 2016, all I could think was keep it coming, Nevada. I'm going to find more of your secrets.

We drove through a couple small "ghost-like" towns. You know, the typical Nevada side-of-the-road little cities with torn up billboards, abandoned buildings and broken rusty cars in the middle of what the place used to be and of what could've been. It all adds up to the desert mystery we crave.

The highway cut through the history and the charm, despite the low-speed limit, my mind kept on going a thousand miles per hour. I wanted to tell all the Nevada stories, and maybe one day I could.

After recording for 7 weeks in a couple different stretches, we gathered ourselves in the editing bay that we affectionally call "The Cave." This one room with no windows and full of imaginary mirrors, where we get to watch all the good and bad decisions we make on the field. The editing room holds back no punches and neither does the clock.

Time starts ticking faster and the show needs to hit the air. I used to see the editing bay as the room where all the magic happens, but after airing our first season I learned the magic really happens when the show gets to you at home and what you make of it.

Don't get me wrong, I rely on a talented group of let's say, magicians. They go by videographers, writers, editors, a sound mixer, an associate producer, transcriptionists, a captioner, master control operators, an encouraging production manager and a gifted host.

In other words, a lot goes on before an episode gets to you, but you make the magic happen. When you watch it, call or email us, tell your family and friends about it. When you help to rescue a tortoise or when you discover a new place to visit in the state. It's all you. And I'm so thankful.

Driving through Nevada is everything you thought it would be: the dust, the dirt and the road. Producing Outdoor Nevada is much more than I could have ever imagined. It's challenging, exciting, rewarding and in the words of my favorite host, John Burke, "It's the dream job."

THIS WEEK'S PICKS

Latin Music USA

Friday, May 5 at 9 p.m.

From Latin jazz and mambo to salsa, Tejano, Chicano rock, Latin pop and reggaeton, this vibrant musical special tells the story of the rise of new American music forged from powerful Latin roots and reveals the often overlooked influence of Latin music on jazz, hip hop, rhythm and blues, rock 'n' roll, and all of American culture. It's a fresh take on America's musical history, reaching across time and across musical genres to embrace the exciting hybrid sounds created by Latinos, musical fusions that have deeply enriched popular music in the U.S. over more than five decades. Jimmy Smits narrates.

Victorian Slum House

Tuesdays at 8 p.m.

This fascinating new series takes viewers back to the British slums of the 1800s, where a group of modern day families, couples and individuals recreate life in London's East End as their forbearers once lived between 1860-1900. Faced with the virtually impossible task of earning enough money to pay the rent and put food on the table. Over these five episodes, the participants experience first-hand the tough living and working conditions endured by the millions that made up the urban poor in Victorian Britain. It's an eye-opening experience for the participants as they each confront the harsh realities of the past and together lay the groundwork for welfare reform in the 20th Century. In the premier episode, the participants move into an 1860s tenement made up of sparse rooms, a shared water pump and outdoor privies.

THIS WEEK'S PICKS

A Place to Call Home

Sundays beginning May 7 at 6:30 p.m.

This sweeping new romantic drama centers on enigmatic nurse Sarah Adams (Marta Dusseldorp) as she returns to her native Australia after two decades in Europe. It is 1953 and the horrors of World War II are still raw and alive for many. Nurse Sarah Adams learns of the death of her half-brother and returns to Australia from London to care for her estranged mother. Carrying the secrets of her wartime experiences, Sarah works her passage home aboard an ocean liner where she becomes involved in the lives of the Blighs, a wealthy Australian family. When Sarah unwittingly discovers a potentially scandalous Bligh family secret, her future becomes forever linked with theirs.

Independent Lens: National Bird

Sunday, May 7 at 11 p.m.

Follow the dramatic journey of three whistleblowers determined to break the silence around one of the most controversial issues of our time: the secret U.S.

drone war. Exploring the complexities of drone warfare from a human perspective, the film gives rare insight into the American military drone program through the eyes of veterans and survivors. While it may be true that these veterans don't sustain battlefield injuries, their psychological wounds can be substantial. Pilots and analysts observe air strikes live and in detail, including the aftermath, when survivors pick up human remains for burial. Yet due to the secrecy of their positions, they are prohibited from discussing details of their experiences with anyone — even their psychiatrists. The film's haunting images bring a faraway issue close to home.

THIS WEEK'S PICKS

American Epic

T Bone Burnett

Tuesdays, May 16 - 30 at 9 p.m.

In the late 1920s, record company scouts toured America with a recording machine for the first time and captured the raw expression of an emerging culture. It democratized music and gave a voice to the poorest in the nation. The filmmakers follow the scouts' trail to rediscover the families whose music was recorded: early blues, country, gospel, Hawaiian, Cajun and folk, without which there would be no rock, pop, R&B or hip-hop. Over three episodes, the remarkable lives of these seminal musicians are revealed through previously unseen film footage, unpublished photographs and exclusive interviews with some of the last living witnesses to that era.

Elizabeth at 90 - A Family Tribute

Monday, May 15 at 10 p.m.

Narrated by HRH The Prince Of Wales, this film is a unique celebration of The Queen's 90 years. Filmmaker John Bridcut has been granted access to the complete collection of Her Majesty's personal cin  films, shot by The Duke of Edinburgh and The Queen herself, as well as by King George VI and Queen Elizabeth The Queen Mother. Much of the footage has never been seen before by the public. Various members of the Royal Family take part in the documentary, contributing their own personal insights into the woman they know both as a member of their own close family and as Queen. Repeats Sunday, May 14 at 4:30 p.m.

THIS WEEK'S PICKS

Antiques Roadshow: Orlando

Monday, May 22 at 8 p.m.

This popular series is on the road to sunny Orlando in search of America's hidden treasures. The last visit here was in 2007, so it is exciting to return to see the next generation of finds that await us. Approximately 5,000 guests received valuations of their antiques and collectibles by specialists from the country's leading auction houses and independent dealers.

Dark Angel on Masterpiece

Sunday, May 21 at 9 p.m.

Joanne Froggatt, who stole the hearts of millions of viewers as Anna, the loving and resilient lady's maid on Downton Abbey, stars as the notorious Victorian poisoner Mary Ann Cotton in this spine-tingling drama. Born in northeast England in 1832, Mary Ann Cotton grew up in poverty with the dream of escaping the hard life of a miner's family. Her chosen means were her good looks, sexual allure and the dirty secret of nineteenth-century suspicious deaths: arsenic, which is tasteless and easily disguised in a cup of tea. Her body count can never be certain; the current best estimate is at least thirteen, ranking her far above her Victorian male counterpart, Jack the Ripper.

THIS WEEK'S PICKS

PBS Previews: The Vietnam War

Sunday, May 28 at 9:30 p.m.

This program takes a look at the creation of the upcoming series from Ken Burns and Lynn Novick. Featuring interviews with the filmmakers, behind-the-scenes footage and exclusive clips from the series, this program will give viewers an advance look at this fall's most anticipated film. In an immersive narrative, Burns and Novick tell the epic story of the Vietnam War as it has never-before been told on film and features testimony from nearly 100 witnesses, including many Americans who fought in the war and others who opposed it, as well as Vietnamese combatants and civilians from both the winning and losing sides. "The Vietnam War was a decade of agony that took the lives of more than 58,000 Americans," Burns said. "Not since the Civil War have we as a country been so torn apart."

National Memorial Day Concert

Sunday, May 28 at 8 p.m.

This year marks the 28th annual broadcast of this patriotic concert, bringing us together as one family of Americans to honor the service and sacrifice of our men and women in uniform, military families and all those who have given their lives for our country. The concert features acclaimed actors Joe Mantegna and Gary Sinise and an all-star lineup of actors and musicians, along with top pops conductor Jack Everly and the National Symphony Orchestra. Show segments include a tribute to the last surviving member of the Doolittle Raiders, who flew the daring bombing mission that launched the U.S. invasion of Japan after Pearl Harbor; and the story of the sacrifices made by Captain Luis Avila and his wife, Claudia, as they courageously face life-changing injuries incurred from an IED bomb blast. An encore broadcast will air the same evening at 10 p.m.

Remembering Jewish-American Heritage Month

Sunday, May 14 from 1:30 p.m. - 3:30 p.m.

For Jews during the Holocaust, there wasn't much reprieve from the despair and horror surrounding them, but music-particularly that of violins, which hold an important role in Jewish culture-offered temporary solace and a glimmer of humanity. Narrated by Adrien Brody, Violins of Hope: Strings of the Holocaust at 1:30 p.m. follows the journey of Israeli violinmaker Amnon Weinstein in his efforts to restore violins recovered from the Holocaust. This program captures the lessons and highlights the music these instruments now bring to others. Following at 2:30 p.m., The Jewish Journey: America tells the three-part story of Jewish life in the old country; the reasons behind leaving their respective homes and journeying to the U.S., and both the establishment of communities and the great accomplishments made in the U.S.

Great Performances at the Met: L'Amour de Loin

Thursday, May 18 at 9 p.m.

One of the most highly praised operas of recent years, which had its premiere at the Salzburg Festival in 2000, Kaija Saariaho's yearning medieval romance has its Met premiere. Debuting Finnish conductor Susanna Mälkki leads the performance, which stars Susanna Phillips as Clémence, Eric Owens as Jaufré, and Tamara Mumford as the Pilgrim who carries messages of love between them. The opera takes place during the mid-12th century, the time of the historical Jaufré Rudel, a poet and troubadour. One of the most discussed, praised, and successful of recent operas, it is a seductively beautiful tale of love's unfathomable nature. The idea of impossible love was central to the explosion of poetry in Europe in the 12th century, and it has remained prominent in all the arts ever since.

Miss Sophie's Instinct

Saturdays at 7 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Miss Sophie Meyerhofer loves investigating crime almost as much as she loves sausage, sauerkraut and driving around Regensburg in her British car! After spending 25 years in England, she's brought the best of it back home with her, including the classic English flair for solving crimes by deduction. Open-hearted and curious, she and her childhood friend, Father Anselm, contribute to the local investigations. There's only one man who's more exasperated by her meddling than the town's criminals, and that's the police inspector. It doesn't make things easier that he's her brother, since Sophie knows how to handle him. German with English subtitles. Repeats same days at 10 p.m. and 11 p.m.

Ripley: Believe It or Not: American Experience

Thursday, May 4 at 9 p.m.

LeRoy Robert Ripley rose to fame during the Great Depression, transforming himself from a skinny, bucktoothed boy into an entertainer who mesmerized the nation with his razzle-dazzle blend of homespun Americana, colorful exotica and freakish oddities. Over three decades, his "Believe It or Not!" franchise grew into an entertainment empire, expanding from newspapers to every form of "new media" in the 20th century: radio, film and, ultimately, television. At the center of it all was Ripley, whose obsession with the odd and keen eye for the curious made him one of the richest men in the country. This is the story of the man who popularized the iconic phrase, and proof of why we still can't resist his challenge to "Believe it — or not!"
