A Message from the General Manager

Music Rings in the New Year

Music lovers will have much to celebrate this holiday season with a lineup of memorable music programming on Vegas PBS. From legendary rocker Tom Petty to the folk harmonies of Simon and Garfunkel, from the Tabernacle Choir to the Boston Pops we've sprinkled the schedule with something for every music taste; alongside our normal lineup of television's best children's, cooking, public affairs, drama, science, history and nature programs.

Early footage from the most honored folk trio in history will be featured in Peter, Paul and Mary's seventh PBS special, Peter, Paul and Mary at Newport 1963-1965. Viewers will enjoy never-before-seen performances from the group's early years, and a flash of insight into the 1960s, a time that was both turbulent and filled with hope.

From his teenage days to today, through thousands of concerts and millions of records, Donny Osmond has remained an international household name with a devoted fan base, especially in Las Vegas. Donny Osmond: One Night Only! brings the final performance from Osmond's sold-out 2017 United Kingdom tour to PBS audiences for the first time.

Another living legend, Engelbert Humperdinck, returns to PBS with a My Music special, Engelbert Humperdinck in Hawaii, featuring his concert performance at Honolulu's historic Hawaii Theatre Center in August 2018.

Performed as a free concert in 1991, Paul Simon's Concert in the Park drew one of the largest crowds ever gathered in New York City's Central Park and features favorites from both his solo career and the legendary folk duo Simon and Garfunkel. Tom Petty and the Heartbreakers – from Gainesville: The 30th Anniversary Concert shows the band being welcomed as hometown heroes in Gainesville, Florida during their 30th anniversary tour in 2006.

Viewers who make an end-of-calendar-year pledge of support during three special concerts will receive tickets to see live Las Vegas performances by Ryan Ahern, Michael Bubl , or Sarah Brightman! Champion pianist Ryan Ahern: Live in Concert features unforgettable renditions of movie themes, Broadway tunes, classical favorites and more. Vegas PBS recorded his first PBS special at Myron's Cabaret Jazz at The Smith Center.

The Great Performances special Michael Bubl : Tour Stop 148 features live performances of his greatest hits, including behind-the-scenes footage of what it took to create his epic two-year worldwide tour. Finally, Sarah Brightman: Hymn showcases the world's best-selling soprano from the foot of the Bavarian Alps. Tune-in information for all these must-see pledge specials is on page 8.

We hope you'll tune in to these and other great musical performances this month, along with our seasonal programs related to history, science, drama, and holiday reflections. In a year of political change, technological change, economic resurgence, hurricanes and wildfires, I hope you have found Vegas PBS a trusted resource for thoughtful information, stellar performances, engaging drama, scientific revelation, and nurturing children's programs. Without your support, none of these programs would be broadcast. We thank you for your continued support of Vegas PBS and wish you a happy, healthy and hopeful holiday season.

Call the Midwife Holiday Special 2018
Tuesday, December 25 at 9 p.m.

The new Christmas special stars Miriam Margoyles as Sister Mildred, who arrives unexpectedly at Nonnatus House, her hands full with four Chinese orphans. Having fled China, the child refugees were found abandoned in Hong Kong and are being adopted in the U.K. as part of the World Refugee Project. With Christmas preparations in full flow and the midwives busy caring for the expectant mothers of Poplar, these unexpected visitors cause joy and chaos in equal measure.

The special also sees Trixie return to Poplar in time to cover for the Sisters as they leave for the Mother House. The Order's Mother Superior has taken ill, and a new spiritual leader needs to be elected. It soon becomes clear, much to Sister Julianne's horror, that she is the favored candidate.

“The Order's Mother Superior has taken ill, and a new spiritual leader needs to be elected.”

Amanda's attempt at reconciliation with her father fails and she ends up homeless. Found by Leonard, as she is about to give birth, he takes her to the vicarage. The baby, Grace, born on Christmas Eve presents Sidney with the dilemma of another man's baby that Geordie equates with Joseph and Mary from the bible.

The midwives encounter complex and challenging cases from an outbreak of typhoid, to the increase in lung cancer, a teenage pregnancy and a mother who vanishes. A Safe Play From the Volatility

Roger Federer is universally considered the greatest tennis player of all time. The winner of 20 men's singles major titles, he's accomplished more than any other male player in the open era. In fact, he's won five more slams than all-time greats Andre Agassi and John McEnroe combined! Of his trips to the finals, he has been victorious nearly 70% of the time. So, how does that relate to the stock market? Let's view it in light of tennis's greatest of all time's record.

During recent times, we've experienced a considerable amount of volatility. It certainly doesn't feel good, but it shouldn't be entirely shocking. Like a Federer kick serve, the market doesn't go in a straight line. It has a lot of movement and goes up and down. This volatility is what enables investors to capture returns. Fortunately, the market goes up significantly more than it goes down.

Let's explore the data. We'll use the S&P 500 as a proxy, recognizing that past performance is not a guarantee of future results. According to investment firm Dimensional Fund Advisors, the returns from 1926 to 2017 have been positive nearly 75% of the years. Moreover, the average return over these 68 positive years is 21.12%, overwhelming the average of -13.61% during the 24 negative years. Further, the average return over this 92-year period is 10.16%. Think about that. If you could go to the nearest casino and get those odds, would you?

Investing can be approached from an academic and scientific perspective, similar to medicine's evidence-based approach. This entails owning equities, diversifying globally, rebalancing, and remaining disciplined. It involves no stock picking and no market timing. Rebalancing, which is the process of regaining the pre-determined mix of asset classes, facilitates the Holy Grail of investing: buying low and selling high. After all, based on their relative performance over time, asset classes drift, resulting in either over or under representation. This compromises the integrity of the portfolio. Having a mechanism for rebalancing built into the process facilitates selling high and buying low.

Humans have emotions, and these emotions often get in the way of successful investing. We seek more of what feels good and less of what feels bad. Furthermore, we watch TV, read publications, and engage in conversations. These can create anxiety, which, in turn, can result in destructive behavior. The problem isn't the market's volatility. The problem is how we - as emotional human beings - respond to it. Those who panic perpetuate the pain; and those who remain disciplined and rebalance their portfolio, rightfully reap the rewards.

According to think tank DALBAR's annual Quantitative Analysis of Investor Behavior, which studies actual - not hypothetical - investor returns, investor behavior is prominently responsible for investor underperformance. In fact, according to the 2018 report, the average equity fund investor's return over the past 20 years was 5.29%, substantially underperforming the market. The S&P 500, for context, provided a return of 7.20% during this same time period. Over a longer period, the difference is even greater.

Investing should be done with a long-term outlook. When the market is volatile, discipline should prevail. And with a portfolio that adheres to the principles of evidence-based investing, this constitutes an opportunity for systematic rebalancing. Perspective matters. After all, since winning his first Grand Slam in 2003, Roger Federer has won at least one major each year nearly 70% of the time.

THIS WEEK'S PICKS

Letters from Baghdad

Tuesday, December 11 at 9 p.m.

Academy® Award-winning actress Tilda Swinton narrates the story of a true original, Gertrude Bell, sometimes called the female "Lawrence of Arabia." The most powerful woman in the British Empire in her day, Bell was an explorer, spy, archaeologist and diplomat who helped shape the Middle East after World War I, then served as advisor to Winston Churchill. Using never-seen-before footage, the film chronicles Bell's extraordinary journey into both the uncharted Arabian desert and the inner sanctum of British male colonial power. With unique access to documents from the Iraq National Library and Archive and Gertrude Bell's own 1,600 letters, the story is told entirely in the words of the players of the day. It is a unique look at both a remarkable woman and the tangled history of Iraq.

Dec. 21, 1968. Apollo 8 was the first manned Saturn V launch

NOVA: Apollo's Daring Mission

Wednesday, December 26 at 9 p.m.

Apollo astronauts and engineers tell the inside story of Apollo 8, the first manned mission to the moon. The U.S. space program suffered a bitter setback when Apollo 1 ended in a deadly fire during a pre-launch run-through. In disarray and threatened by the prospect of a Soviet Union victory in the space race, NASA decided upon a radical and risky change of plan: turn Apollo 8 from an earth-orbit mission into a daring sprint to the moon while relying on untried new technologies. Suddenly everything hinged on Apollo 8. Fifty years after the historic mission, the Apollo 8 astronauts and engineers recount the feats of engineering that paved the way to the moon.

Rick Steves Special: European Christmas

Sunday, December 2 at 3:30 p.m.

From manger scenes and mistletoe to wintry wonderlands, this special celebrates the Christmas season throughout the European continent. Rick visits friends and families in England, France, Norway, Germany, Austria, Switzerland and Italy to reveal their customs and practices of the holiday season. He begins his travels in England, where the Christmas pudding is the real centerpiece of a traditional English holiday meal. In Paris, the Eiffel Tower glows with its red, twinkling lights. And in the countryside of Tuscany, villagers stack neat pyramids of wood for great bonfires, where the villagers—dressed as shepherds—come and sing old carols. Enjoy a colorful, musical celebration of Christmas across Europe and learn about customs from "the old countries," hear local choirs and discover holiday family traditions. Repeats Tuesday, December 4 at 2:30 p.m. and Saturday, December 8 at 7:30 a.m.

Our Drama Marathons Continue

Sundays throughout December

It has been a delight to relive all the joy and heartbreak of this beloved drama as we enjoyed the entire series of Downton Abbey over the past few months. Alas, this month, we say good bye to the Crawley family and their downstairs servants as we air the concluding episodes of Season 6 on Sunday, December 16 from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

But we can look forward to a marathon viewing of Season 1 of the acclaimed drama Victoria on Masterpiece on Sunday, December 16 from 12:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m., concluding on Sunday, December 23 from 9 a.m. to noon. In 1837, a diminutive neglect-

While we can't promise that her creations will be easy to make, we can attest that it'll be fun to watch them come together, for bakers at any level. Preempted Sunday, December 23.

Independent Lens: An Honest Liar

Monday, December 10 at 7 p.m.

For the last half-century, James "The Amazing" Randi has entertained millions of people around the world with his remarkable feats of magic, escape and trickery. He fooled scientists, the media and a gullible public, but always with a deeper goal of demonstrating the importance of evidence and the dangers of magical thinking. But when he saw faith healers, fortune tellers and psychics using his beloved magician's tricks to steal money from innocent people and destroy lives, he dedicated his life to exposing frauds. However, when dealing with a master deceiver, the truth can often be hard to find. A sudden and shocking truth in Randi's personal life is brought to light when the tale of multiple identities takes an unexpected and potentially devastating turn.

Tatort: Borowski

Fridays at 7 p.m.

Tatort means "crime scene," and that is where this show starts and ends. This month brings an all-new Season 3 of this immensely popular crime drama starring Axel Milberg as Detective Klaus Borowski. Borowski is a quixotic, social disaster who manages to offend everyone while solving crimes in the port city of Kiel. His infuriating mix of callousness and sensitivity serves him well on the job but gets him in trouble with everyone in his private life. His assistant, his ex-wife, his daughter and his shrink all want to throttle him most of the time, unless he's having one of his rare good moments - in which case, he's delightful. In German with English subtitles.

Repeats same days at 10 p.m.

Shirley Temple

JACKPOT! SPOTLIGHT

The Little Princess

Saturday, December 22 at 9 p.m.

The holidays are a perfect time to enjoy once again this classic film. When Sara Crewe's father, Captain Crewe, arrives to enroll Sara (Shirley Temple) in Amanda Michin's (Mary Nash) exclusive school they are snobbishly turned away. When the snooty headmistress learns that Crewe is a major shareholder in a South African diamond mine, she quickly accepts his generous check and gives Sara the royal treatment, including the best room in the school and a choice seat at the dinner table. Later, when she learns that Sara's father has most likely been killed in action and her bills won't be paid, she sticks Sara in an unheated attic room and relegates her to the servitude of a scullery maid to pay off the insurmountable debt. With the help of Bertie Minchin (Arthur Treacher) Sara finally is able to find her wounded father.
