A Message from the General Manager

50 Years of Friendship

KLVX-TV signed on the air — for three hours (!) — on March 25, 1968. When summer vacation ended later that year, an additional six hours of live, black and white instruction classes for school children was added to the daily schedule. In 1971, PBS began providing a national all-day program service, but charged annual fees to local stations. To meet this cost and to provide marketing support for these new services, the Friends of Channel 10 was founded by a group of dedicated community volunteers led by the indefatigable Charlotte Hill. The new nonprofit group assumed a major fundraising role for our public television station by helping to secure funds for local productions and the annual programming dues to PBS. 'Friends of 10' hosted the first televised auction raising $35,000 for the station and establishing a solid foundation of financial support that has driven our educational, cultural and public affairs community impact for five decades.

In 1999, The Friends of Channel 10 restructured and was renamed Southern Nevada Public Television (SNPT) as they launched a capital campaign to fund the digital television transition and the construction of what is now the Vegas PBS Educational Technology Campus. Today, SNPT functions with numerous mission-based councils staffed by dedicated Vegas PBS volunteers and supporters, including a Community Council that creates special station events and projects, a Government Affairs Council that assists with strategic legislative communications, a Planned Giving Council that provides free estate planning seminars and secures legacy gifts for the station, and a Desert Meadows Area Health Education Council that provides health education programs for the community. They work closely with our FCC educational licensees on the Clark County School District board.

As Vegas PBS celebrates its 50th Anniversary this year, our success as a public service media organization would not have been possible without the strong foundation created by the non-profit board members. The founders would never have imagined the growth of the organization to include today's multi-cast and cable channels, internet services, online courses, or mobile phone apps. Their steadfast focus on securing individual donations, leveraging member and corporate support, and hosting fundraising events was instrumental to each of the milestones and technology innovations we've achieved together. From launching local series like News Night, Nevada Week in Review and Outdoor Nevada or powerful documentaries like The Test, Restoration Neon or African Americans: The Las Vegas Experience, the board has helped fund and promote education broadcasts and outreach services that are available for everyone across our Southern Nevada community.

Today this board consists of 21 board members representing a wide range of business sectors and community organizations. A new slate of officers elected during the January meeting has begun their term and will continue to plot a course for the exciting next half-century that follows. Please see page 19 for a complete photo listing of our current board members.

The board may have a new name today, but they will always be treasured "friends" of the station.

Impossible Builds

Wednesdays at 10 p.m.
beginning February 7

Learn about the creation of some of the world's most ambitious and technologically advanced buildings. From subaquatic homes to futuristic towers and pencil thin skyscrapers, see how these previously impossible structures are taking shape.

The Scorpion Tower / February 7

In the heart of downtown Miami, a skyscraper like no other is rising. The brainchild of superstar architect Dame Zaha Hadid, the Scorpion Tower features an insect-like external skeleton where the supporting columns are on the outside of the building. The curvaceous design is so radical, construction experts have turned to a building material never before used in skyscraper construction. As the building work begins, the entire workforce is rocked by the sudden death of Hadid. Determined to complete the tower as a legacy to one of the most extraordinary architects in a generation, the team must now rewrite the rulebook as they take the pioneering building material to new heights.

“...the entire workforce is rocked by the sudden death of Hadid.”

The Floating House

Europe in the Desert / February 14

Austrian property developer Josef Kleindienst has a dream — to transform six barren sand islands poking out of the Persian Gulf into the most luxurious holiday destination on earth. His plans are ambitious and costly. He's spending tens of millions of dollars to re-create the essence of Europe across six artificial islands located 2.5 miles off the coast of Dubai. His six-million-square-foot resort will feature 14 hotels and 42 private residences, and will accommodate up to 16,000 people at any one time.

The Floating House / February 21

Living beneath the waves has long been a science fiction fantasy, but architect Marco Bolzoni's team in Dubai is trying to make it a reality. Above the waterline, it promises two floors of ultra-luxurious living space. Downstairs is another world. The floating Seahorse hopes to offer the first underwater bedroom, complete with coral garden. If his calculations are not spot on, he could find himself and his multi-million dollar villa in deep water.

Rising seas flooded the cave and cut it off from the outside world—until a team of divers chanced upon her nearly complete skeleton in 2007. Follow forensic clues that reveal intimate details of her life and death, and how her people first ventured into North America.

Tesla: American Expreience

Wednesday, January 31 at 11 p.m.

Meet Nikola Tesla, the genius engineer and tireless inventor whose technology revolutionized the electrical age of the 20th century, paving the way for today's wireless world. Eclipsed by contemporaries such as Edison and Marconi, the visionary scientist died impoverished and largely forgotten. But the visionary Tesla imagined robots, radio, radar, remote control and the wireless transmission of messages and pictures. His fertile but undisciplined imagination was the source of his genius but also his downfall, as the image of Tesla as a “mad scientist” came to overshadow his reputation as a brilliant innovator. Repeats Friday, February 2 at 4:30 p.m.

New From American Experience

Gilded Age: American Experience

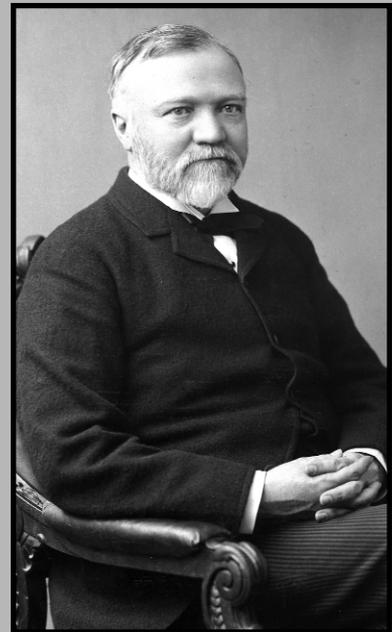

Tuesday, February 6 at 9 p.m.

Thirty years after the Civil War, America had transformed itself into an economic powerhouse, but the transformation had created stark new divides in wealth, class and opportunity. The simultaneous growth of a lavish new elite and a struggling working class sparked passionate and violent debate over questions still being asked today: How is wealth best distributed, and by what process? Should the government concern itself with economic growth or economic justice? This special is a compelling portrait of an era of glittering wealth contrasted with extreme poverty.

Bombing of Wall Street: American Experience

Tuesday, February 13 at 9 p.m.

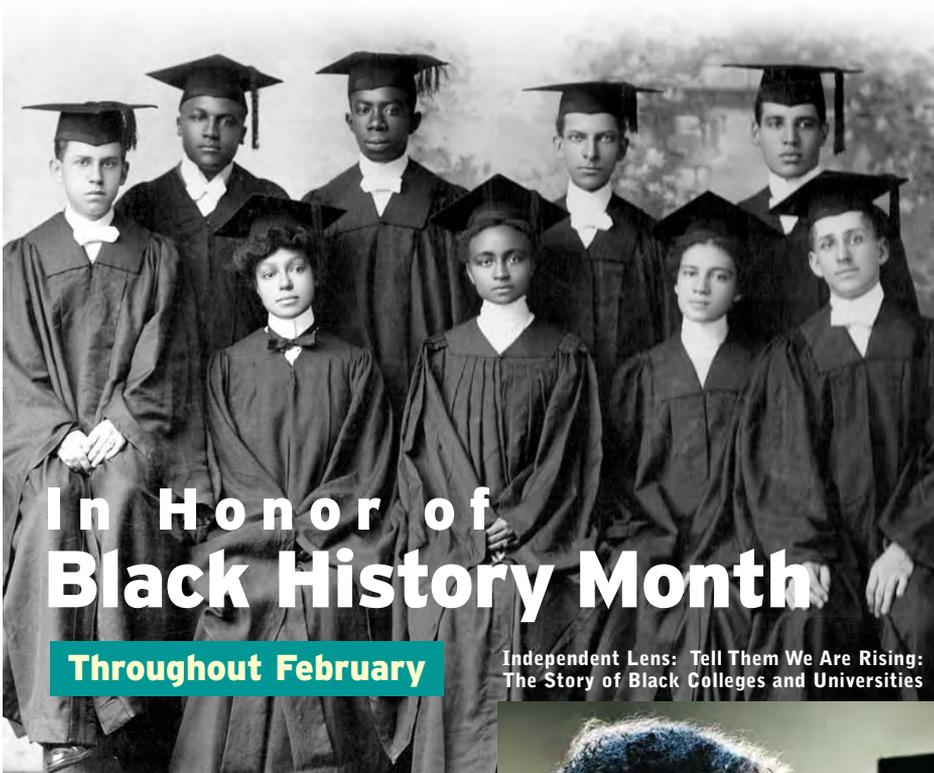

On September 16, 1920, a horse-drawn cart packed with dynamite exploded in front of Morgan Bank — the world's most powerful banking institution. The blast left 38 dead and hundreds more seriously injured and many wondered if this was a strike against American capitalism. A mostly forgotten act of terror that remains unsolved today, the bombing helped launch the career of a young J. Edgar Hoover and sparked a bitter national debate about how far the government should go to protect the nation from acts of political violence.

Queen Victoria and the Crippled Kaiser

Sunday, February 25 at 10:30 p.m.

This gripping documentary reveals the childhood of Queen Victoria's grandson, the future Kaiser Wilhelm II. The German prince was born with a paralyzed arm, a disability that was then considered shameful. Cruel attempts by his mother to cure him poisoned their relationship and helped to turn the boy, born to unite the royal families of Britain and Germany, into the man who tore them apart. Just 13 years after his grandmother's death, Wilhelm led his country into the First World War.

Engaging Extensions for Learning

Vegas PBS is dedicated to providing engaging educational opportunities for children in Southern Nevada, to extend learning beyond the broadcast. We are excited to hold our 2018 PBS KIDS Writers Contest this spring. With this event, we celebrate the creativity of Southern Nevada kids and encourage a love for art by promoting hands-on, interactive learning experiences. Children grades K-5 are encouraged to submit original stories with illustrations to Vegas PBS. The top three winners in each grade level will be honored at a recognition ceremony at Vegas PBS in which the awardees will learn their placements. Prizes include a trophy, framed enlargements of their work and additional reading and writing resources, all sponsored by Janice Allen. First place winners will also receive a scholarship to attend the Southern Nevada Writing Project's Summer Youth Writing Camp. More information can be found at VegasPBS.org/writers-contest.

Vegas PBS also fosters a passion for creativity through the television programs we offer. Joining our Vegas PBS KIDS lineup on Monday, February 19, is Pinkalicious & Peterrific, a new animated series that encourages preschool-age children to explore the arts and spark creativity in the areas of music, dance and visual arts.

Based on the best-selling HarperCollins Pinkalicious book series by Victoria Kann, Pinkalicious & Peterrific follows the adventures of Pinkalicious and her brother Peter. Pinkalicious imagines creative possibilities everywhere she looks. She is an artist at heart — and, like most creative people, she sees the world differently from others. She knows what she likes, and she's not afraid to express herself — though she sometimes needs help from her brother, Peter, and her neighborhood friends. Full episodes and clips of Pinkalicious & Peterrific will be available across PBS KIDS' streaming video platforms, including the PBS KIDS Video app, and will be paired with related games at pbskids.org and on the PBS KIDS Games app.

The benefits of integrating videos and games is grounded in research showing that the combination leads to better learning outcomes for kids. We are excited to report the launch of "phase one" of a new game integration feature on the Vegas PBS KIDS 24/7 livestream. This new feature promotes related games at the end of select shows. Integrated games will launch initially on the PBS KIDS Video iOS and Android mobile apps. Links to these games will initially appear in four PBS KIDS shows: Dinosaur Train, Nature Cat, Wild Kratts and Odd Squad. If a child or parent clicks on the "Play Now" button presented at the end of the program, they will be taken to that game in the PBS KIDS Games app where learning opportunities will continue beyond the show.

Vegas PBS will continue to innovate and provide enhanced learning experiences that inspire families and educators throughout 2018 and beyond.

“...grounded in research showing that the combination leads to better learning outcomes for kids.”

Victoria Season 2 on Masterpiece

Sundays at 9 p.m., concluding on February 25

The new season of this fabulous series concludes this month. Season 2 finds Victoria adapting to motherhood after the birth of her first child, a daughter (to the disappointment of many). In other foreign affairs, a royal state visit to France is in the offing. Most intriguing to Prince Albert is the budding Industrial Revolution, which is now sweeping England. There is Charles Babbage's mechanical calculator, a collaborative project with the bewitching Ada Lovelace, daughter of the scandalous Lord Byron. Then there is William Fothergill Cooke's miraculous electrical telegraph, not to mention Marc Isambard Brunel's daring – and dangerous – Thames Tunnel. Each episode repeats the following Sunday at 8 p.m.

Animals with Cameras: A Nature Miniseries

Wednesdays, January 31 -
February 14 at 8 p.m.

Wildlife cameraman Gordon Buchanan and a team of pioneering animal behaviorists join forces to explore stories of animal lives "told" by the animals themselves. Using the specially designed cameras, sprint across the savannah with a cheetah, plunge into the ocean with a seal and swing through the trees with a chimpanzee. Cameramen take a step back and let the animals themselves take us through the complex world they call home. Viewers will be privy to their secret lives like never-before and uncover some truly unprecedented behavior through their eyes. Repeats the following Thursdays at 2:30 p.m. and Sundays at 9 a.m.

Gordon Buchanan and a cheetah

We'll Meet Again Tuesdays at 8 p.m.

The tides of history can disrupt lives, throwing strangers together or tearing loved ones apart. Through moving personal stories of hope, courage and love, this series brings together people whose lives intersected at pivotal moments. Executive produced and reported by Ann Curry, each episode reveals the powerful bonds forged among people who now, against the odds, have the chance to reunite with someone who transformed their life. The stories range from a Vietnam War baby desperate to find the American father she last saw 40 years ago to the military chaplain who helped a stranger through the trauma of 9/11; from a Japanese-American girl interned in 1942 who never forgot the classmate who helped her during her darkest hours to civil rights workers whose lives were forever changed by the deep relationships they formed in the 1960s South. Repeats on Wednesdays at 4:30 p.m.

#MeToo, Now What?

Fridays, February 2 - March 2 at 8:30 p.m.

This timely series goes beyond the headlines about sexual harassment to ask how we got here and how we move forward. In the current moment, when sexual harassment is at the forefront of the national conversation, the series aims to take the discussion to another level, engaging both women and men from all generations and walks of life in dialogue about these difficult issues. With the goal of making sense of these tumultuous times, the series seeks to answer this: How did we get here and how can we use this moment to effect positive and lasting change?

THIS WEEK'S PICKS

NOVA: Great Escape at Dunkirk

Wednesday, February 14 at 9 p.m.

As France fell to the German armies in May 1940, 300,000 Allied troops were trapped on the beaches of Dunkirk. Their annihilation seemed certain - a disaster that could have led to Britain's surrender. But then, in a last-minute rescue dramatized in Christopher Nolan's recent film, Royal Navy ships and a flotilla of tiny civilian boats evacuated hundreds of thousands of soldiers to safety across the Channel. Now, NOVA follows a team of archaeologists, historians, and divers as they recover the remains of ships, planes, and personal effects lost during the epic operation. With access to previously classified files, they also uncover the truth behind the myths of Dunkirk - notably, a claim that the Royal Air Force failed to protect the stranded men from the Luftwaffe's constant bombing of the beaches.

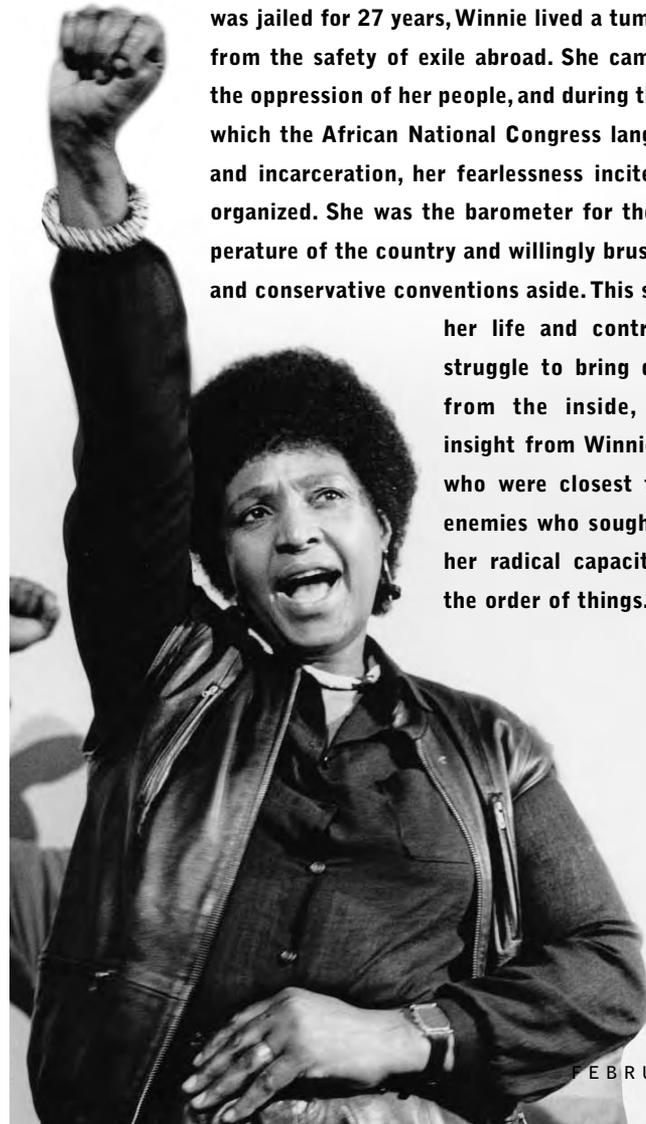

Independent Lens: Winnie

Sunday, February 11 at 11 p.m.

Winnie Madikizela-Mandela is one of the most misunderstood and intriguing of contemporary female political figures. Her rise and seeming fall from grace bear the hallmarks of epic tragedy. While her husband Nelson Mandela was jailed for 27 years, Winnie lived a tumultuous life far from the safety of exile abroad. She came to symbolize the oppression of her people, and during the long years in which the African National Congress languished in exile and incarceration, her fearlessness incited them to get organized. She was the barometer for the political temperature of the country and willingly brushed patriarchal and conservative conventions aside. This special explores her life and contribution to the struggle to bring down apartheid from the inside, with intimate insight from Winnie herself, those who were closest to her and the enemies who sought to extinguish her radical capacity to shake up the order of things.
