MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT & GENERAL MANAGER

Recognition

In the National Mall, there's a simple yet poignant message inlaid with silver on the Korean War Memorial's granite structure: "Freedom Is Not Free."

It's a phrase that has matriculated into the American lexicon, from poets to pundits. At its core, it expresses the sentiment that the sacrifices made by those who answered the call of duty should not be forgotten nor taken for granted. PBS takes great pride in recognizing our nation's armed forces and the importance and bravery of their service.

“ From history to science, arts to lifestyle, Vegas PBS is your home for quality shows, engaging community events, and reliable public service. It's all possible thanks to you.”

Gary Sinise and Joe Mantegna, acclaimed actors and longtime supporters of our troops and veterans, return to co-host the 2024 National Memorial Day Concert on Sunday, May 26 at 8 p.m. They're joined by actress Mary McCormack and the National Symphony Orchestra, led by renowned pops conductor Jack Everly. Viewers can expect another moving and inspiring television and digital event to mark one of our nation's most sacred national holidays. Be sure to take a look at some of our other Stories of Service as well.

This month, we have several programs highlighting AAPI stories. Full listings can be found at vegaspbs.org/schedules, but one series that I'm particularly looking forward to is Lucky Chow, airing Saturdays at 3 p.m. LUCKYRICE culinary festival founder Danielle Chang travels across America exploring the Asian food landscape, featuring many of the country's most renowned chefs and culinary personalities.

I'd also like to congratulate the winners of the 2024 Vegas PBS KIDS Writers Contest Presented by Janice Allen! Out of over 600 submissions, a panel of judges selected 30 stories to be recognized at this year's celebration. The annual competition is open to children grades K-5, giving them a wonderful opportunity to express their creativity and imagination. To learn more, visit vegaspbs.org/writers-contest

Next month, be sure to join us for the next installment of the Nevada Democracy Project listening sessions. As we get closer and closer to the general election, this is your chance to make your voice heard on what issues you think elected officials should know about.

From history to science, arts to lifestyle, Vegas PBS is your home for quality shows, engaging community events, and reliable public service. It's all possible thanks to you. We deeply treasure and appreciate your ongoing support. Thank you.

All the best,
Mare Mazur

America ReFramed: In Search of Bengali Harlem

Thursday, May 9 at 5 p.m.

As a teen, Alaudin Ullah was swept up by the energy of hip-hop and rebelled against his Bangladeshi roots. Now a playwright contending with Islamophobia in post-9/11 Hollywood, he sets out to tell his parents' stories. This program tracks his quest from mid-20th-century Harlem to Bangladesh, unveiling intertwined histories of South Asian Muslims, African Americans and Puerto Ricans.

America ReFramed: In Search of Bengali Harlem

Local, USA: Chinatown Auxiliary

Monday, May 13 at 6 p.m.

For decades a group of Chinese residents, now grandpas and grandmas, have patrolled the streets of Manhattan's Chinatown as NYPD volunteer police while fighting to find belonging in a country that felt foreign and unwelcoming to them. Patrolling in NYPD Auxiliary uniform is their way of protecting the few blocks they call home and assimilating into the mainstream. From the savage tribulation in the '70s to "Asian Hate" during the COVID-19 pandemic, these stories remind us of the hope the U.S. represented to the tired, the poor and the huddled masses yearning to belong.
